To Light Up Your Holiday

Mrs. Candice Dowdy (far left) and Mrs. Mavis Gibbs (far right, above), both Home Service advisors for Southside Electric Cooperative had fun and unique Christmas decorations on display Thursday at Appomattox Intermediate School where these Junior Future Homemakers and others enjoyed a "how-to" session on the making of holiday accessories. In the center of the table, an all-white arrangement of plastic straws and small Christmas lights. Another novel idea --a Christmas wreath made from crumpled newspaper(enamel sprayed and circled with lights). The Home Service advisors also spoke to the Future Homemakers of America chapter, Appomattox County High School. For an inexpensive candle-stick, a styrofoam Snowman, chicken-wire napkin ring -- or any of dozens of other ideas, how about asking these Jr. FHA officers (from left, standing with Mrs. Dowdy) Doretha Bigelow, Joyce Foster, Charlene Rush, Threasa Garrett, Cindy Harris, Gay Honeycutt, Carla Varner, Jeannette Clark, Mrs. Gibbs.

Save Your Wishbone!

by Rebecca M. Johnson
Extension Agent

Why not save your Thanksgiving turkey wishbone to create a colorful mistletoe hanger for Christmas? First create sudsy snow by beating a cup of dry soap or detergent with a little warm water until it resembles whipped cream. Coat the bone with this mixture, and set aside for an hour or so. When the suds begin to harden, wrap the bone with narrow red ribbon in a candy cane pattern. When the trim is entirely dry, fasten a ribbon bow to the bone with a floral wire -- leaving long wire ends to tie on a piece of mistletoe, and to hang it in a strategic location.

Dark Leaf Market Opens

Appomattox dark leaf tobacco growers were happy with first day sales in Lynchburg Tuesday. (From left): Young Leon Moore joined the group was Mason Banton, (next), checked leaf quality. He grew six acres of tobacco with 1,506 pounds of leaf marketed Tuesday with a price range of 48-79¢ a pound. Standing next, Mrs. Claudine Moore, Grayden Martin, Winston Martin and Verta Banton (wife of Mason Banton) who grew 966 pounds of Brown Leaf for a sale price of 54¢ to 84¢. Their good lugs sold for $71.00 and the Bantons are happy that their 84¢ price was tops for the day, Banton, laid off three weeks ago from C&O Railroad work due to the coal strike, says he increased his tobacco acreage from 4.5 acres last year to 6 acres this year and that the extra money will be a good supplement. He's even willing to concede that Verta's crop brought better prices . . . Readers might like to know that Mason was gentleman enough to give Verta a choice of growing land.

Ford-Drinkard Help Firemen

James Ford, Appomattox Town policeman, and Paul Drinkard, businessman and civic worker have formed a "temporary partnership" -- a two-part working effort to provide Appomattox fireman with a Christmas gift!

Every dollar given to either one for the Firemen's Fund will help say "thank you" to more than 25 firemen of the Appomattox Fire Department who are on call to help fight fires.

It's very easy to make a gift to a fireman, say Drinkard and Ford -- no wrapping --no worrying about sizes or colors.

A donation of $1, $5 -- maybe MORE -- can help the Ford-Drinkard "partnership" to great Christmas success with the Firemen's Fund.

Original McLean Items Donated To Park

Mrs. Ethel V. Fox of Fairfax, Virginia, has donated a pair of baby shoes and a broken spur to Appomattox Court House National Historical Park. The items are particularly significant because of their association with the Wilmer McLean family. The broken spur was owned by Wilmer McLean, Sr. His name is engraved on the spur. Park Technician Charles Meadows received the items from Mrs. Fox in Fairfax. After the items have received preservation treatment and cataloging, they will be displayed at the Park.
